ABOUT ME

Result-Focused Front End Developer with a burning desire to put together well-written code. I have a track record of using modern technologies to bring software products to life. My key strengths include being able to use web-based systems that create a highly interactive user experience. Specializing in ReactJs and it's vast ecosystem, I have no problems with taking an application from the beginning stages of a simple idea to a fully functional and responsive machine.

INTERESTS

- Neural networks and JavaScript
- AR/VR built with JavaScript
- Analog and Digital music composition
- Whiskey and History
- Snowboarding and BMX
- Trying not to break my bones
